Koosha Sanat Khodro Co.

A Leading Company in Aluminum Vehicle Parts in Iran

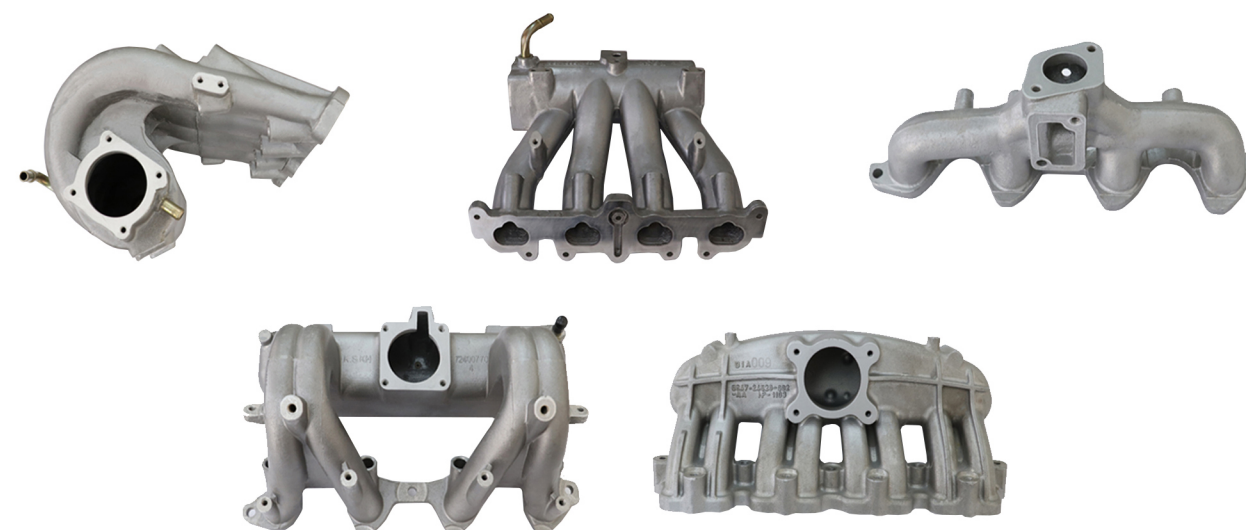

Koosha Sanat Khodro Co. initiated its activities with casting and machining aluminum parts using the gravity-casting method in 2004. Over these years, the main focus of the company has been dedicated to manufacturing aluminum parts of vehicles, such as different types of intake manifolds and engine mounts.

All casting processes are performed in permanent cast-iron and steel castings procedures and machining processes are accomplished with 3-axis and 4-axis CNC machines.

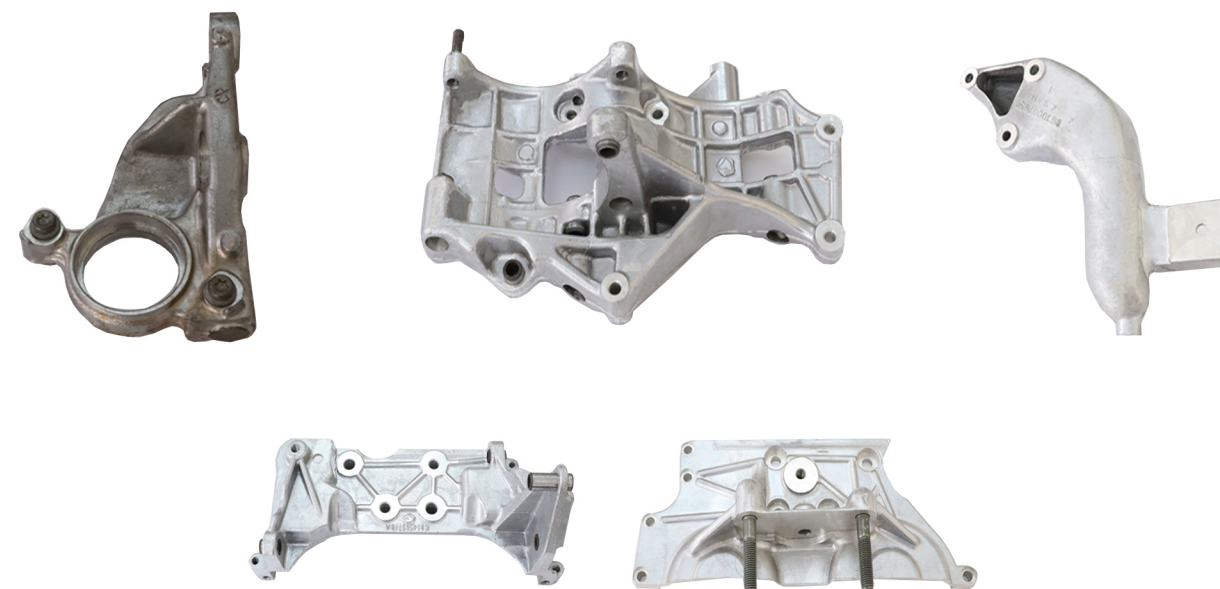

Koosha Sanat Khodro's management, with over 40 years of experience, simultaneously benefited from experience and knowledge at its disposal. This important feature led to being recognized as one of the few aluminum auto parts manufacturers of this particular field in Iran. The following parts are just a few samples of our products:
